Journeying out to visit fun places

If you are like most CHS students, you enjoy being surrounded by friends, good food, and lively, entertaining music. Going out can be costly, but most people do not seem to mind spending money for amusement.

Traveling out into the Northwest Indiana region, seven CHSers made a stop at Merrillville's "Celebration Station." The amusement and dining establishment, located on U.S. 30, provided the opportunity for the students to enjoy video games, a mechanical musical show and pizza. Although the restaurant is especially geared for the very young, the CHSers found no difficulty in re-capturing a youthful outlook.

Participating in the outing were seniors Lori Jones, Don Neeley, juniors Charlene Avant, Ted Gutierrez, sophomores Diane Flores, Kenny Jones and freshman Jennifer Hamilton.

If you are out on a date, or just out with friends, the Calumet Region offered many choices for a fun recreational outing.

a: CHSers view the mechanical entertainment of "Celebration Station's" own "Pantones."
b: Junior Ted Gutierrez tries his ability at a game of Skee-Ball.
f: Junior Charlene Avant challenges the Turbo video game, while Don Neeley views her score.

"Getting there" is Sometimes Half the Fun

People move around in so many ways. There are trains, planes, buses, and cars. A taxi cab will take you almost anywhere and an ocean cruising ship could bring romance into your life. Some people use the old fashioned means of transportation: jogging, running, or walking in a mad hurry to get ... somewhere.

Why do people have this preoccupation with travel? Perhaps it is the exhileration of meeting new people, or maybe seeing new places.

Well, in any case, at Calumet we have a place to relax and enjoy while traveling through life.

Every student is special and has his/her own needs. At Calumet the school board, administrators, teachers, and staff members work to provide a valuable educational experience for students.

Learning about life is a big responsibility, CHS gives students the chance for experience. Programs for on-the-job training are offered in the health, industrial, and business fields.

Learning can be an adventure with CHS's curriculum offered in commercial, vocational, and academic areas.

Curriculum in the academic area provides an abundance of choices.

Come be a part in this journey and you will experience entertainment. A variety of events throughout the school season were presented by the Drama Department, and art classes provided students with an education in "the finer things."

Vocational programs taught wood and metal working.

Come and enjoy recreation with traditional team sports, football, basketball, baseball, and volleyball. Also discover life sports like tennis and golf. Plunge into the crystal clear depths of CHS' pool.

If you choose Club Met you too can be a part of organized activities sponsored by groups. So much more is awaiting you at Club Met.

c: Juniors Tom Brogdon, Millie Marinkovic, and Lori Farris study brochures at the Griffith Travel Bureau.
d: Juniors Tom Brogdon and Millie Marinkovic dream of flying.

Entertainment Experiencing 'Tons of Fun' on the Trip!

At Club Calu-Met we not only provide an educational experience, we also offer our fellow members and guests some real CHS hospitality.

In the early fall, the journey through the school year began as students congregated in the cafeteria to obtain their copy of the 1983 Chieftain yearbook.

Everyone joined in the festivities in preparation for the Homecoming 1983. Students and teachers demonstrated their enthusiasm by dressing for the annual Spirit Week. Activities such as flower fluffing parties, pep sessions, and the Homecoming Revue, led up to the climax of Homecoming Week: the game and the crowning of the Queen and Mr. Football.

In the winter months students enjoyed the nightclub atmosphere of the annual turnabout dance.

The wide range of activities, carried on throughout the year, provided all school members with an opportunity for fun.

a: Junior Mona Hatler signs an autograph for Sherry Masterson, graduate.
b: Graduate Pete Marinkovic stops outside to sign a book for Robin Waters, freshman, and graduate Kally Walters.

f: Yearbook staffer Lisa Rubalcava, junior, presents a copy of the 1983 yearbook to subscriber Parri Newlin, senior.

Hey, look! It's me!

Views of the year gone by were presented in a new seasonal arrangement for the '83 Chieftain annual, entitled, "A Timely Look."

Excitement filled the CHS fieldhouse foyer on August 31 for the annual yearbook signing party. Graduates and underclassmen gathered to receive their copies of the 1983 book.

The Chieftain contained eight color pages of activities, and twelve pages of senior color portraits, paid for by the Senior Class. Also included in the annual were eight pages of spot color.

During the sales campaign in the fall of 1982, approximately 384 books were sold.

a: Senior Rob Joseph (Dr. Jekyll) faints after viewing a patient receiving an injection.
b: While attending a party, Rob Joseph (Dr. Jekyll) tries to explain his actions to sophomore Kim Carlisle (Prudence).
c: Kim Carlisle (Prudence) bids farewell to Rob Joseph (Dr. Jekyll). Junior Karla Owens (Mrs. Rich) disapproves of her decision.
d: Senior Keith Parker (Dr. Jonas Reticule) argues with senior Kim Cummings (Dr. Lydia Benzonherst) over retaining Dr. Jekyll's services.

Is there a doctor in the house?

A doctor fainting at the sight of blood? That was the premise of the production, "Don't Try to Hyde from Me, Dr. Jekyll," held in the auditorium on November 4 and 5.

During the course of the play, the doctor discovered a pill in his research lab which turned him into a comedian.

The production was directed by Mr. Paul Borlick, drama instructor.

a: Senior Mark Bishop "struts his stuff" for CHS fans.
b: Senior Bonnie Piontek performs a spirit-boosting dance in the annual Homecoming Revue.

Let's Hear it for Spirit!

A witty week of ways to dress up was sponsored by the Student Council from September 26 to 30. CHSers spent the week dressing up in celebration of Homecoming 1983. The Spirit Week schedule included "Kids Day" on Monday, "Sweats Day" on Tuesday, "Toga Day" on Wednesday, "Punk Day" on Thursday, and on Friday the traditional school colors of red and white.

The annual Powder Puff football game was scheduled for September 29. The games enthusiastic female gridders "battled it out," 22-20. The Junior-Freshman team, nicknamed the "River Rats," beat the Senior-Sophomore squad, the "Tomcats."

Also during the week, the yearly Homecoming Revue was presented in the theater by drama classes.

Jones, Hughes Reign Royal

Calumet area residents were dazzled by flower covered floats rolling through the streets during the Homecoming pre-game activities on September 30. The winners of the float contest were the Lettergirls who were awarded $40.

As the 4,000 roaring spectators cheered, the Warriors squeezed by Griffith, 7-6, at the annual Homecoming game.

When halftime began, the noise of the crowd turned into a hush of suspense as they awaited the anouncer's verdict. Tom Hughes and Lori Jones were chosen Mr. Football and Homecoming Queen.

a: Spanish Club members create a float with the theme, "Viva Calumet."
b: Lori Jones is selected 1983 Homecoming Queen.
c: Theresa Bukur serves as a nominee for Homecoming Queen.
d: Anna Hernandez serves in the Queen's Court.
e: Sophomores Tammy Sills, Samantha Sheely and graduate Pat Favuzzo celebrate a CHS victory at the Homecoming Dance.
f: Candidates for Mr. Football are Luis Lopez, Don Neeley, Tom Hughes, and Randy Marinen.
g: Lori Rohr serves as a finalist for Homecoming Queen.
h: Lettergirls' creation won first prize in the float contest.

Groups make holiday music

CHS' auditorium came alive on December 13 when the school Band, Chorus and Warriorettes presented the Band Christmas Concert.

Band members played traditional Christmas Carols, as the chorus sang selected specialities. Also performing were the Warriorettes, pom pon squad.

a: CHS band woodwind section rises to play a Christmas selection.
b: Band members await their cue to perform.
c: The Warriorettes dazzle the audience with their Christmas routine.
d: Mrs. Belinda Patoma directs the Christmas concert.
e: CHS Band and Chorus team up to present a musical Christmas show.
f: Junior Tracie Rice and co-members of the Warriorettes perform a dance routine during the Christmas Concert.

b: Area residents make their selection at the spaghetti supper.
c: Patrons await their "All You Can Eat" feast.
d: Faculty member Jerry Tauber awaits his selection at the spaghetti dinner.
e: During the dinner, parents, teachers and friends sit in the cafeteria to socialize.

Group feeds pasta patrons

The traditional "All You Can Eat" spaghetti dinner was held on March 14. Students, and other area residents, gathered in the Calumet school cafeteria for the event, sponsored by OEA (Office Education Association).

The proceeds from the event were used to send OEA qualifiers to national competition in Indianapolis.

b: An assistant from Spasoff Studio prepares senior Doug Olin and junior Frances Vibanco for their turnabout portrait.
c: CHS students enjoy a selection performed by Abacus.

Hey, did ya ask a guy yet?

Romance filled the CHS school foyer on the magical night of December 17, as many CHS students and their dates gathered for the eighth annual Candlelight Reflections Turnabout Dance, sponsored by Health Occupations.

Entertainment for the special occasion was provided by Abacus, for the second consecutive year.

Photographic memories were provided by Spasoff Studio, located in Merrillville.

Society adds new members

Excellence was the key word when describing 25 students who were inducted into the National Honor Society during the month of April.

The new members were judged on grades and excellence in the areas of character, leadership and service.

a: Mr. Robert Joseph, principal, makes a presentation to senior Marilyn Palmer.
b: Inductees participate in the Honor Society ceremony held in the auditorium.
c: New members await their names to be called for induction into the Calumet chapter of the National Honor Society.
d: Senior Amy Ols presents a speech at the Society induction ceremony.

b: Miss Francie Blaney presents junior Pete Richards with the most inches of newspaper copy award.
c: Junior Pam Schiller receives the Hammond Times "Most Valuable Underclassman Staffer Award."
e: Newspaper staffers await their turn at bat against yearbook staff members.

Staffs hold awards day

The CHS' Yearbook and Newspaper staffs changed from their annual dressy awards banquet to a casual picnic held at newspaper staff member Pete Richards' house on May 19.

Miss Francie Blaney presented certificates of participation to all members of both staffs. Special awards were presented to senior Stephen Turner, Post Tribune's "Most Valuable Staffer;" junior Pam Van Vleet, "Most Contributing Yearbook Staffer;" sophomore Patti Wachowski, "Most Ads Sold;" junior Dave Radar, "Most Contributing Photographer;" junior Pam Schiller, the Hammond Times' "Most Valuable Underclassman Staffer Award;" and junior Pete Richards, "Most Contributing Newspaper Staffer."

Participants honored

On March 29 the Inland Steel Ryerson Foundation held their annual "Outstanding High School Teacher Awards" dinner. Awards were presented to encourage excellence in teaching at the high school level.

This year Miss Pauline Yatsko was given the award. Miss Yatsko has been teaching at Calumet for 31 years. She began her career at CHS teaching Spanish and arithmetic. She is currently teaching Algebra I and II, trigonometry, and analytic geometry.

Miss Yatsko also sponsors Honor Society, Student Council, Pep Club, Lettergirls and Cheerleaders.

The annual vocational banquet was held in the CHS foyer on April 4. Awards were given to outstanding members in the Health Occupations, Industrial Cooperative Training and Office Education Association clubs. Employers of vocational students were also honored.

a: Mr. Milos Karagin congratulates Miss Pauline Yatsko.
b: Mr. Joe Portman presents an award to ICT member, senior Max Konowalik.
c: Junior Rodney Parker and Mr. Joe Portman socialize after the awards ceremony.
d: Miss Pauline Yatsko receives an outstanding teacher award.
e: Miss Yatsko returns to her seat after accepting the award.

Play depicts dating woes

On April 23, members of the Senior Class presented the production, "Two Dates For Tonight." The comedy in three acts was a special project of Senior Class sponsor Miss Johnnie McCray.

Miss McCray, commenting on the presentation said, "The comedy was well presented by the entire cast."

Between the second and third acts an intermission presentation was provided by senior Theresa Hinkle, junior Mary Austin and sophomore Debbie Fite. The three girls performed a flute trio.

a: Senior Michelle Splojoric (Silvia Chandler) tells of her decision to leave her family forever.
b: Senior Rob Joseph (Freddie Buchanan) and senior Marilyn Palmer (Miss Gallop) happily gossip among themselves.
c: Senior Berry Handley (Bradford Carter Jones) finally asks Lisa Goins (Anne Mayfield) to the prom.
d: Senior Rob Joseph (Freddie Buchanan) and senior Marilyn Palmer (Miss Gallop) are snooping in on the conversation.
e: Cast members are shocked when Michelle Splojoric (Silvia Chandler) arrives after having been kidnapped.

A big night to dress-up

For the first time in Calumet history the annual Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Holiday Star Theatre in Merrillville. Students prepared for weeks ahead of time buying dresses and matching accessories, or renting tuxedos. Florist shops were busy with orders for bouquets and boutineers.

On the night of Friday, April 13, CHSers filled the Holiday Star Theatre. Romance was the mood of the night for the annual spring event with the theme, "We've Got Tonight." Prom King and Queen, Scott Duvall and Theresa Walker were announced.

a: Senior Richard Alford asks date Melanie Deering for the next dance.
b: Winning king and queen juniors Scott Duvall and Theresa Walker dance together in celebration of their victory.
c: The band Pawnz provides music for CHSers.
d: Candidates for Prom King and Queen assemble to await the announcement.

b: The graduating class of 1984 gathers in the Calumet fieldhouse for commencement exercises.

Class totals 234 grads

CHS Princiapl Robert Joseph and Lake Ridge Superintendent Herbert Abramson distributed approximately 234 diplomas to the graduating Class of 1984. The girls and boys, clad in white and red gowns with the Honor Society members sporting gold shoulder braids, participated in the solemn occasion.

Relatives and friends gathered in the Calumet Fieldhouse on May 20, at 2 p.m. to witness the traditional valedictory speech presented by Kim Cummings and the salutatory speech given by Bill White.

c: Winner of a merit scholarship, Kim Cummings delivers her valedictory speech to fellow classmates and area residents.
d: The salutatory speech is given by William White.
e: Linda Arnold receives her diploma and exchanges a handshake with Mr. Herbert Abramson, superintendent.

Academics; Yes, the going gets tough!

Visitors to Club Calumet will find that learning programs provided at CHS are tough.

CHSers were challenged every day by problems, mathematical courses like Algebra I and II, occupational algebra, geometry, analytic geometry, and physics provide Club Met graduates with the skills for problem solving in every day life.

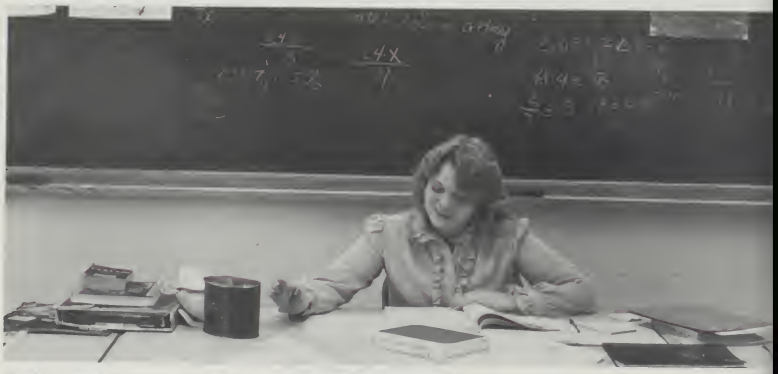

Studies in English were provided with an honors group that advances to a higher level each year, ending with a year of senior English aimed at college preparation. Courses in foreign language were also offered in areas such as French and Spanish.

Biology, chemistry, advanced biology, and advanced chemistry presented a challenge to CHSers with scientific minds.

The social science education at Cub Calumet included a four year required program of civics/careers, world civilizations, U.S. history, and government/economics. All of these gave students knowledge of past glories, present day truths, and the future dreams of men.

Senior students participated in the Stanford Achievement Test (SAT), which determines their college entry possibilities.

Senior Kim Cummings was presented a National Merit Scholarship Award for her extremely high SAT scores.

In any language, communicating is all

Buenos dias. Guten morgen. Bonjour. So begins each day in foreign language classes at CHS. Language can be a barrier for some people, or a bridge between people helping them to communicate. Knowing a second language may help eliminate this barrier. Calumet students were offered four-year programs in both Spanish and French, while German was offered to second year students only.

Shakespeare, pronouns, diagraming sentences, and book reports . . . were all an inescapable part of the study of English. The "back to basics" approach was stressed in freshman, sophomore and junior classes.

Electives included drama, speech, reading laboratory, English 12, Bible literature, journalism, newspaper and yearbook.

a: Senior Kimberly Cummings, student teacher for Miss Johnnie McCray, goes over an assignment with her third hour class during the National Education Week.
b: Third year Spanish students work on their piñata for Foreign Language Day.
c: Pam Schiller, junior, exchanges positions with Miss Francie Blaney on Student—Teacher Exchange Day during Naitonal Education Week.
d: Second year French student, Beatrice Fontanez, makes crepes as a class project.
e: English 12 honor students study a practice lesson in Miss Johnnie McCray's third hour class.
f: Students takes notes, while listening to taped lessons in Miss Carmen Lis's Spanish class.

Putting emphasis on science and math

Mathematics, problems, and life and nature projects were some of the various areas CHS mathematics and science students studied.

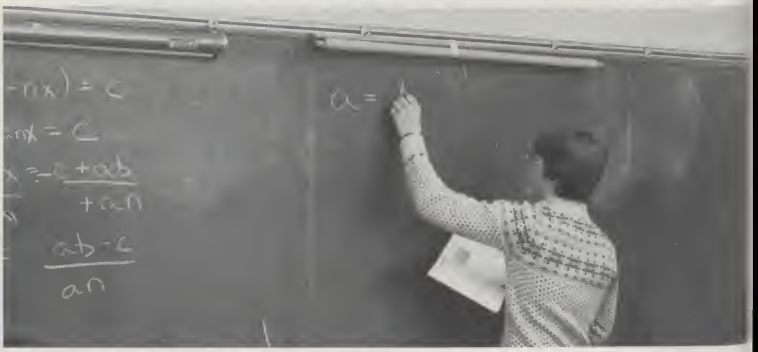

If one were a "wiz" at mathematics, then courses in general mathematics, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, analytical geometry and computer mathematics were available.

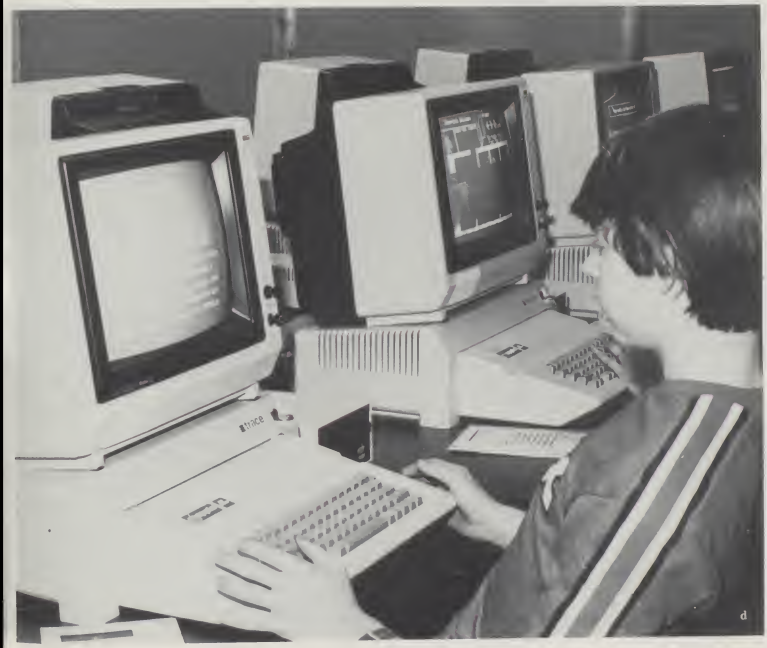

For students who enjoyed gazing at the stars, mixing chemical concoctions, or dissecting "little critters," courses were offered in physics, general science, biology, advanced biology, chemistry, earth science and astronomy.

a: Biology students study slides and complete their lessons during third period.
b: Senior Ted Panayi answers biology questions during third hour. Ted exchanged places with faculty member Mr. Charles Cole.
c: Senior Billy White, student teacher for Miss Pauline Yatsko, completes a mathematics problem on the board during third hour in Algebra II class.

Discovering a 'fine' art at CHS

Music melodies, art projects and dramatic acts were considered fine arts at Calumet High School. Many students displayed their talents when they entered art and drama classes, others did so when they joined such groups as Band and Chorus.

Calumet's Band and Chorus members played all sorts of tunes, both in class and in concerts. Art students, among other things, produced pictures and molded clay. Those who took drama practiced acting out the parts of both good and bad characters. Also many drama students performed in the spring play, "Don't Try to Hide from Me, Dr. Jekyll."

a: The brass section of CHS's band practices for an upcoming concert.

Centers provide learning sources

A quiet, comfortable atmosphere with several learning materials was exactly what the Calumet High School library provided this year. The library staff, consisting of Mr. John Talias, Mrs. Betty Cheliras and many student assistants were always ready to answer questions and look-up information for other students and teachers.

The Reading Laboratory was also a source of learning at CHS. Courses offered there were speed reading and four developmental reading classes, for those students interested in improving their reading skills.

Also in this learning division, a new computer laboratory was added to CHS' facilities for the use of students and teachers.

Students master everyday skills

Practical arts were a big part of the year at Calumet High School. Many students, both male and female, interested in expanding their vocational training, joined this area of specialized learning.

Courses included woods, metals, drafting, welding, graphic arts, cooking and handicrafts.

Students displayed their skills by making projects, which were later given a letter grade.

a: Renda Stewart and Beth Litherland, juniors, work on their handicraft projects.
b: Freshman Mitchell Leon and Ernie Sierra work at the lathe in metals shop.
c: Freshman William Geralds and sophomore Richard Ooms work on a project duiring woods class.
d: Cooking students prepare an assigned project, which is graded on taste and appearance.
e: Junior Tom Tomich prepares plans for an assignment in drafting class.
f: Senior Greg Tauber practices his welding skills.

Focusing on past, present, future

Do you enjoy remembering great men and events of the past, or maybe learning about the American government system, or perhaps wrestling with the Gross National Product or the National debt?

Calumet High School had an educational program that covered every aspect of social science. A different class in social science was required for each grade level. Civics/careers was offered to freshmen students. World Civilization students were members of the sophomore class. Juniors were enrolled in a U.S. history course. Government/economics was required for seniors.

a: Miss Connie Smith, a representative from DeVry Technical Institute, lectures Mr. William Miller's and Mr. Milos Karagin's sixth hour classes on computer and electronics careers.
b: Junior Sherri Nusz gives an oral report in sociology.
c: Mr. William Miller's fourth hour class studies government.
d: Mr. Tom Dakich's sixth period class studies civics.

Preparing for business opportunities

Business classes were offered to the students who wanted a head start on a good job. Courses in typing and general business were offered to first year students. Insurance and credit, consumers economics, and sales and retailing touched on fundamentals and problem solving. Shorthand I and II, and business machines were provided for the more serious business students. Intensive laboratory, taught by Miss Eva Simic, was a special two hour class for those who wished to pursue business as a career.

a: Junior Kathy Kemp works on her shorthand assignment.
b: Dawn Olin, junior, completes a shorthand transcribing assignment.
c: On Student-Teacher Exchange Day, Jackie Wabbington junior, takes over for Mrs. Dorothy Long.
d: Juniors Lisa Valdez and Kelly Parker work on an assignment in Intensive Lab.
e: Sheila Steele, junior, operates the computer word processor in Intensive Lab, taught by Miss Eva Simic.

Not wealthy nor wise, but healthy!

a: Irene Hernandez, sophomore, takes an eye examination given by Mr. Jerry Carden for drivers' education.
b: Senior Sheila Wilburn practices her bed making skills, for special nurse duty, in Health Occupations.
c: Boys' sixth hour physical education class shoots baskets.
d: Sophomore Melinda Peek and senior Theresa Burkur learn new steps during their Warriorettes class.
e: During third hour physical education class, sophomores Mark Duich and William Jonigan work-out in the weight lifting room.

"Let's get physical . . ." This theme was carried into the physical education classes this year. Whether it was volleyball, basketball, swimming or gymnastics, the program provided something for everyone. One learned the basics of good exercising, sports, and just all around fun.

Health and safety taught students first aid techniques, and how to care for the human body. Students studied the basics of good health through experiences, as well as movies, textbooks and worksheets.

Experience that Club-Met feeling!

Belonging to Club Met is an experience. CHS offered a world of participation for those who needed a niche of their own.

Clubs like C-Teens gave students the opportunity to give of themselves. Groups like Office Education Association (OEA) taught the valuable lesson of responsibility and capability. Special interest groups, such as Biology Club and Chemistry Club, were just suited for bright young "whiz kids." Foreign Language Clubs took some of their members on journeys to far off lands and distant ports.

Clubs like ICE and ICT gave members the chance to work on-the-job. Health Occupations asked that the members give not only time and energy, but even blood!

All of these groups, and others, were a fun, exciting part of Club Calu-Met.

Come visit us and experience the feeling.

Groups hold many events

Under the new leadership of Miss Pauline Yatsko, 25 new members were inducted into the Calumet chapter of the National Honor Society.

The CHS Student Council sponsored many student activities such as the Powder Puff game, class elections, and the Spirit Weeks. The group also sponsored a Teacher-Student Exchange Day during Education Week.

Teens allow male members

Calumet C-Teens added a new twist to the former all-girl organization. This year males were admitted as members, and approximately 30 joined.

The male and female members conducted several charitable activities during the year. The club made ten Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, and distributed 75 Easter and Halloween treat bags for the Headstart program.

Groups plan exotic trips

Calumet's French Club attended a folk concert, experimented with French cooking and sold candy to raise money for a trip to France next year.

Spanish club members held bake sales, sold Santa Grams and sponsored a dance to fund an eight day trip to Mexico during Easter Vacation.

Music makers 'sound' off

CHS' band not only performed in the Christmas and Spring Concerts, they also added musical spirit to pep rallies and home football and basketball games.

The organization sold candy and peanuts to raise money for the various trips they made throughout the year.

Four band members took second place medals in state competition held on February 18.

In addition to performing at the holiday concerts, the CHS chorus entertained shoppers with their Christmas carols at the South Lake Mall.

Seven chorus members captured second place awards in state contests.

Group nets 167 pints

Indiana Health Occupation Students of America (I-Hosa) sponsored the sixth annual Red Cross Blood Drive, in which they collected 167 pints of blood. The club exceeded their goal by 66 pints, thanks to the willing participants that donated.

The club sold cheese, sausage and canisters of nuts and candy to raise money. The proceeds were added to the club funds.

The organization attended various health related meetings and participated in the state contest.

Mrs. Dorothy Hepp, sponsor, encouraged a career in the health field by putting many of her students on the co-op program, which places the student in a health related job.

Clubs offer job training

Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) and the Office Education Association (OEA) are clubs that offer on-the-job training in different fields of work for students who are interested in part time employment.

ICT member senior Matt Ludwig won a first place award in welding at the regional contest on March 28.

OEA sponsored many fund raising activities such as selling Christmas merchandise, Valentine Day carnations, and Warrior painter caps, posters and key chains. Junior Chris Kalmar won a first place award in records management I, at the state contest.

Let's all yell, 'Go Big C!'

CHS' cheerleaders were always ready to raise the spirit of the student body with their enthusiastic cheers and spirit-filled activities, such as making posters and decorating the team members' lockers during Homecoming and Sectional games.

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad won a first place trophy in overall competition during summer camp at the University of Notre Dame.

The girls sold sectional ribbons and stationary to pay their summer camp fees.

Peppy groups boost spirit

Under the leadership of a new sponsor, Miss Valerie Villarreal, the Warriorettes performed their dance routines to today's most popular tunes. The squad sold popcorn balls, pins and candy to raise money for new uniforms.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were present at games, rousing the spirit of the spectators with their pep-filled cheers. The group attended a cheerleading camp at Valparaiso University, where they captured various awards.

The Lettergirls also appeared at all home and away games to boost school spirit.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders and the Lettergirls were sponsored by Miss Pauline Yatsko.

Club boosts team spirit

Pep Club members boosted the spirit of many team players during Homecoming and sectionals by decorating their lockers with lots of goodies.

Four members of the organization were awarded Pep Club letters for earning 500 points. Points were given on a basis of how many games a member attended.

The club also sold spirit scarves to raise money.

Club Met, 'Changing with the seasons,

As fall's brilliant leaves swayed in the trees, CHSers were preparing for the seasons to come. Lady Seahawks clustered in the CHS pool awaiting competition. The Boys Tennis Team practiced volleys and serves for upcoming matches. Cross Country members went the distance. Football fever filled the halls with bright posters and rousing cheers. Volleyballs were worn out from use.

When the wind grew cold, and the first fluttery flakes of snow fell, bouncing basketballs came into view. Both boys and girls were seen hustling on the courts. The Boys Swim Team raced and dove in the furious competition. The CHS grapplers wrestled their way to victory and established a new record.

With spring rains came the long exacting practices of the Warriors Baseball team. Girls Tennis members were often seen "hitting balls off the walls, and running in the halls." Track Team runners raced for victory.

All these things are standard policy for Club-Met. Visitors surely found a trip through CHS "an event to be remembered."

CHS makes cluster play

The Warrior football team finished their season with a record of 4-6.

The Warriors defeated the Griffith Panthers 7-6 in the Homecoming game to a record crowd of 5,000. The win put the conference cluster into a three way tie between Calumet, Griffith and Gary Wirt.

The Warriors beat Wirt in the first game of the cluster playoff 3-0. They then went on to lose a hard fought 8-6 game to Griffith.

At the annual football banquet, awards were presented to seniors Berry Handley, Most Valuable Player; Doug Kluga, Best Defensive Back; Tom Hughes, Best Offensive Back; Tim Boyles, Best Defensive Linesman; junior Kert Roach, Most Improved Player.

Senior Berry Handley received a scholarship to Indiana University.

Sometimes up, sometimes not

CHS' Varsity Basketball Team finished their season with a record of 9 wins and 11 losses. According to Coach Robyn Payne, "It was an up and down year with the team. There were moments of outstanding play. We will miss leading rebounders Gordana Marinkovic and Amy Ols, but we have a young bench that will help out next year," said Coach Payne.

Junior Amy Beckham was chosen All-Conference first team, and senior Amy Ols was selected for the second team. Leading scorer for varsity was Amy Beckham. Gordana Marinkovic was leading rebounder for the team. The squad placed third in conference play. Co-Most Valuable Players were junior Amy Beckham and senior Amy Ols.

Hawks finish fine season

CHS' Boys Varsity Swim Team finished their season with an outstanding record of 11-2.

According to Coach Doug Starewicz, the team had accomplished their two goals: to place first in the Calumet Invitational, and to do well in the secional tournament.

"We are expecting bigger and better things for Calumet swimming in the future," said Coach Starewicz. The team is looking foreward to next season, all swimmers are returning except senior Paul Targett.

At the season's end, awards were presented to junior Bill Bruce, "Most Valuable Swimmer;" Duane Rogers, "Most Outstanding Sophomore;" and Daryll Goode, "Most Outstanding Freshman."

Fellow Travelers Providing a Friendly Atmosphere

We can offer faces on your journey like no others. Yes, on your tour of Club-Met you will capture glimpses of our "natives" from time to time.

Oh, you may occasionally see a stern look of disapproval, but generally the administrators and instructors find humor in all of those adventure seeking students.

Senior travelers are journeying toward their graduation.

Juniors can't wait until the seniors graduate and they are elevated to Number 1 status at Club-Met.

Sophomore travelers are often just glad that they are not still at the bottom of the population status at CHS. They often "thank their lucky stars" that freshmen were invented.

For freshman tourists this adventure is new and exciting. So what, if your locker won't open and you can't remember the order of your classes?

Club Met has faces. Whether silly, sad, glad, or mad, they are definitely unique.

Administrators and Staff

Getting into 'high tech'

A new computer laboratory was added to CHS' facilities this year for use by students and teachers. Beginning in January, a three day workshop was held for each Calumet teacher, as well as for personel from other area schools.

CHS also welcomed the addition of a new instructor, Mr. Joe Gomeztagle. He taught general and career mathematics, and algebra.

Retiring at the conclusion of the 1982-83 school year were Mr. Irvin Zielinski, 24 years; Mr. Cruz Velasco, 18 years; and Mr. Rolland Beckham, 17 years of service.

At the conclusion of the first semester in 1984, Mrs. Marjorie LeRoy retired after 17 years. Mrs. LeRoy was an attendance clerk in the main office.

Shopping Cashing in on what's 'In' in style

Style was a big part of life in 1984, and CHS was no exception. All throughout the school, students appeared with new fashions and fads. The short look in hair was in style for boys. Camouflage clothing made an appearance on many bodies,male and female alike.

The rage during the Christmas season was the cute and cuddly Cabbage Patch Kids. These "little darlings" came with their own adoption papers, and no two were alike.

Computers made a big impression during the year on both the American market and consumers' wallets. Prices were high, but buyers continued to purchase them, especially through the holiday season.

Americans were spending less. This year the number of jobs in Northwest Indiana decreased, as the steel industry continued to lay-off workers.

Take a Good, Hard Look at Tomorrow, Today!

Because tomorrow is just around the corner, and your future will depend a lot on the decisions you make today.

Your career goal is probably the single most important decision you'll make, so consider it carefully. Consider your interests and skills, and then consider working for a company that will allow you the opportunity to develop and use them effectively.

At Inland Steel we like to bring out the best in people. We do it through training programs, and by offering growth potential. We need solid employees on the production lines, in the craft apprenticeships, in our laboratories, and in the offices.

We've built a strong reputation as a first-rate steelmaker, and we built it with the help of our employees. But we don't rest on past laurels. Like you, we're looking at tomorrow.

Farewell to friends at journey's end.

As our journey through CHS ends, we find ourselves remembering all the fun we had. Good times with friends and special dates are reminisced. Who could forget the Friday night games followed by dances, then out to Burger King with the gang?

Senior members of the Club Calu-Met find themselves looking foreward with fear and anticipation to their futures. A bright possibility shines for each member of the graduating class of 1984. Underclassmen await their turn at the top, with hope in their hearts.

Summer is close at hand and everyone prepares their summer plans, but every once in a while someone will remember CHS with a smile. To graduating seniors, underclassmen, faculty, and friends the Club Calu-Met bids a "Bon Voyage, until we meet again."

The staff gives a special thanks to Mr. James Spasoff, photographer; junior David Rader, newspaper photographer; Mr. Jon Keach, graphic arts instructor; Mrs. Shirley Traicoff, bookkeeper; Miss Robyn Payne, faculty member; and Mr. Steve Talsma, Newsfoto Yearbook representative.
